The claimed invention

The claimed invention relates to a golf ball retrieving tool. The inventive tool is of the kind designed to enable the retrieval of a golf ball that is located at a distance from the tool user, for instance a golf ball that has landed in the shallow water of a water obstacle or which is visible in not-readily penetrated brush or undergrowth. The tool comprises an elongate handle which carries a so-called cage at one end thereof.

The following documents have been cited in the International Search Report

D1: US 2 738 214 A
D2: US 4 313 632 A
D3: US 4 046 413 A
D4: US 3 224 781 A

The documents cited in the International Search Report represent the prior art. The claimed invention stated in claims 1-4 is not considered to be anticipated by these documents. None of the documents or any relevant combination of them reveals a golf ball retrieving tool as described by these claims.
